RACING AT SARATOGA.

First Day of the Second Regular Meeting of the Saratoga Association.

A BRILLIANT ATTENDANCE.

Charming Weather, a Fast Track and Excellent Sport.

FOUR EXCITING RACES.

Freebooter, Susquehanna, Vigil and Osage the Winners.

SARATOGA, August 8, 1876. The weather was warm to-day in town, but on the rand stand in the shade a grateful breeze from the rthwest tempered the heat to an enjoyable degree. the race track being the coolest place at all times in Saratoga. Many of the sojourners at the hotels, who were aware of this fact, gave the "tip" to strangers, and the result was a crowded stand of elestand, which is exclusively occupied by the masculine gender, was also filled, while the lawns in front of the stands presented a gay and animated appearance. The first day of the second meeting was a decided success pecuniarily to the asso-ciation, while the racing gave general satisfaction to on the card, the first a dash of three-quarters of a ile; the second, a mile dash; the third, a mile and three-quarters, and the fourth a cross country affair over the ficids, the hedges, stone walls, ponds and other impediments, and which was a most exciting affair, as the best steeplechase horses in the country were engaged in the race.

was for a purse of $400, for all ages, the distance three-quarters of a mile. For this event there were nine starters, comprising D. McDaniel's chestnut mare Madge, by Australian, dam Alabama, 5 years old, carrying 117 lbs.; D. McCarthy's chestnut colt Glasgow, War Dance, dam Ida Wells, 3 years old, 108 lbs. ; A. Smith's brown mare Inspiration, by Warminster, dam ophia, 5 years old, 117 lbs.; P. Lorillard's black filly Faithless, by Leamingtob, dam Felicity, 3 years old, 103 lbs.; J. T. Blanchard's bay gelding Bambino, by Baywood, dam Goneril, 3 years old, 105 lbs.; G. L. Lorillard's bay filly Idalta, by Glenelg, dam Item, 2 years old, 80 lbs.; George Longstaff's brown colt Freebooter, by Kentucky, dam Felucca, 3 years old, 108 lbs.; Charles years old, 113 lbs.; T. B. & W. R. Davis' chestnut colt Romney, by Curies, dam Poll, 3 years old, 108 lbs. All the above named horses have been running this pring and summer at the various race meetings, with exception of Bambino, who run last year in a twopar old stake at this place. He was not considered of ich account in the pools, however, as in some of them he sold with over sixty to one against him. Faithless was first favorite in a few of the pools last sold previous to the race. Freebooter won a pital race, Madge being second, Romney third. The ockers of Faithless made another great mistake in er running qualities, or they would not have plunged on her as they did at the last moment. The despised ambino, who sold least of all in the pools, beat her ome. It was a capital face, and the backers of the

After a few ineffectual attempts on the part of Cap ain Connor to get the borses abreast at the string, he it length accomplished his object, and the flag dropped o a capital start, Madge with a trifle the best of it, Romney second, Freebooter third, the others bunched as close together as could be. When they ched the furlong pole in the shute Madge was showing the way, Romney second, Freeb oter third, Faithless fourth, Idalia fifth, Bambino sixth, Inspiration seventh, Glasgow eighth and Gray Nun mith, she having made a few buck jumps at the start. When the borses passed out of the shute, Freebooter having crossed the track behind Madge, went to the front with a rush and led on to the regular track three lengths shead of Idalia, who was second, Madge third, Romney tourth, Inspiration fifth, Fatthless sixth, Bambino ahead of Idalia, who was second, Madge third, Romney fourth, Inspiration fith, Faithless sixth, Bambino seventh, Giasgow eighth, Gray Nun ninth. Freebooter showed the way around the lower turn, and he came into the homestruch with a commanding lead, Madge second, Idalia third, Inspiration fourth, Romney fifth, the others close together. A merry run up the homestretch brought Freebooter a winner to the goal by three lengths, Madge second, two lengths ahead of Romney, Inspiration fourth, Gray Nun fifth, Idalia sixth, Bambino seventh, Faithless eighth, Glasgow ninth. Was the Kentucky Stakes, for two-year-olds; $100 entrance, half tortelt, with $1,000 added; the second horse to receive $200 out of the stakes, the distance one inthe. This stake closed with forty-eight nominations, of which the following came to the post—Thomas Puryear & Ca.'s cheatout colt Kingsland, by Narragansett, dam Mandstone, and the same genificant's bay colt Narragansett, dam Chigoon; Albeimont's chestnut filly Susquehanna, by Leaning-on, dam Suson Bean; H. P. McGrath's brown colt bronard, by Longiellow, dam Colleen Bawn; P. Lorilard's bay geiding Bombast, by Bonnie Scotland, dam liencela; Louis A. Ehler's bay colt Frederick the Great, by Lexington, dam Mildred; E. A. Clabaugh's chestnut colt Cloverbrook, by Vauxhail, dam Mandina, and Oden Bowie's chestnut filly Kingdsher, dam My Maryland. A better field of two-year-olds never faced a starter in this country, or on which were greater expectations enlisted. McGrath's big colt Leonard had the call in the betting, P. Lorillard's Bombast being second choice, Mr. Belmont's Susquehanna the hird in favor, while Mr. Clabaugh's Cloverbrook toward the end of the selling came up well, the Marylanders backing him up gamely. Susquehanna won a capital race very easily, Bombast second, Cloverbrook third. Mr. Beimont's filly Susquehanna is a chestnut, with white stripe down her face and small white spot on soronet of left hind foot; has a great quantity of gray hair about her fank and at root of the tail; stands 15% hands, was bred by Mr. A. Welch, Chesnut Hill stud, Pennsylvana, of whom she was purchased by Mr. Belmont when one year old or $1,000. She is a very handsome, well shaped filly, with beautiful head and neck, most excellent shoulders and good middle piece, and strong hip quarters and stife. She is by Leamington, dam Susan Bean, own sister to Acrobat, by Lexington; second dam Saily Lewis, by imp, Glencee, dam of John Morgan, gray colt; th

Bombast soon dashed to the front and led around the upper turn, passing the quarter pole pair a length in front of Kingsland, Bowle's filly third, Leonard fourth, Frederick the Great fifth, Susquebanna sixth, Cloverbrook seventh, the Chignon coltrighth. Going down the backsiretch Bombast showed the way by a length, Bowle's filly second, Leonard third, Frederick the Great fourth, Susquebanna sixth, Cloverbrook seventh, the Chignon coltrighth great the Great fourth, Susquebanna fifth, Kingsland sixth, Cloverbrook seventh, the Chignon bringing up the rear. Bombast kept the lead around the lower turn and opened a length of daylight to the quarter pole, passing that point with a clear advantage of two lengths, Susquebanna second, she baving passed Bowle's filly, Leonard, Frederick and Kingsland on the turn. The race, as the youngsters came into the homestretch, palpably lay between Bombast and Susquehanna, but in a moment or two afterward the race was beyond a peradventure, for the fine raking filly of Mr. Beimont went to the Iront, and, coming away, won a capital race by three lengths, Bombast five lengths in front of Clover-ahead of Osage. The horses then jumped a hurdie at the lower turn, then a stone wall, next a brush fence in the middle of the field, then a brush fence at the big tree, and next the north section of the water jump in front of the stand. As the horses passed over this Reholute had two lengths the best of it, Stanford second, two lengths shead of Corouet, the latter two lengths in advance of Trouble, Osage bringing up the rear. The horses then passed over the two fences of the fractional track into the west field, jumping a stone wall in the middle of the field, and then on over the fences of the regular track at the upper turn, down the hill in front of Pierre Lorillard's stables, then away to the leit over a wall and tence in front of Messra Belmont and Doswell's stables, and again crossing the track into the west field. There had been no change in the positions of the horses during all this time, Resolute leading, Stanford second, Coronet third, Trouble fourth, Osage fifth; but then the latter moved up to the third place, which left the favorites running fourth and fifth. The next jumps in the east field were two fonces in the centre of the field, then a stone wall and alterward the south section of the water jump. There was no change yet in the positions of the runners, and they again crossed the fractional track. The wail was jumped by Stanford, Osage and Resolute at the same instant, the other two together, a length behind. The horses were now doing their best, and as they ran across the track toward the half-mile pole Stanford, Osage Jourth, Resolute fifth. Getting on the regular track the horses ran very fast around the lower turn to a hurdle stationed there, and when they reached it they all seemed to be parallel. As Coronet passed over turn to a hurdle stationed there, and when they reached it they all seemed to be parallel. As Coronet passed over twen to a hurdle was stationed at the firming pole, the race was sharp, but Osage came to the front, to the surprise of every one, and won the race easily by

YACHTING.

THE MATCH RACE BETWEEN THE YACHT WILLIAM R. BROWN AND SUSIE S. NOT DECIDED.

The match race between the Newburg yacht William R. Brown and the Brooklyn yacht Susie S. was not decided to-day, owing to a lack of wind. The boats were from the northward, but after beating two and a half from the northward, but after beating two and a hair miles to windward it fell almost to a calm and continued so, taking the contestants over four and a hair hours to go ten miles, once around the course. The conditions of the ovent were $500 a side, five miles to windward and return, and repeating the ran, making the race twenty miles, and to be made in six hours. When the homestake was reached the first time the Susie S. was over two minutes shead. The race will again be called this morning. Commodore Frank Bates, of the Long Island Yacht Club, is the referee.

O'LEARY'S WALK.

At twenty-one minutes and forty-two seconds past ten o'clock last night O'Leary had completed his 168th mile, having been walking up to that time forty-six hours and twenty minutes, not including stops. Eight laps make a mile, and, owing to the coolness of the night, O'Leary spurted a number of times and was, at the 168th mile, fourteen miles shead of his schedule and in magnificent condition. O'Leary started yesterday morning at six minutes past one o'clock to walk mile had made only six stops, of six minutes, nineteen minutes, thirty-six minutes and forty-two seconds, twenty-one minutes and fifty-six minutes and fifteen seconds. He had completed his ninetieth mile yesterday morning at two minutes and eight seconds past two o'clock. For breakfast he had weak warm gruel and champagne, and boiled potatoes and fried chicken for his supper. During the day and night bowls of iced beet tea, of a weak condition, were given to him when he needed, and to day he will be given sherry and egg, instead of beef tea, as was at first intended by his backer, Mr. John L. Tansey.

It is believed that he will do the 500 miles in six days. It was understood last evening that he would continue waiking until one o'clock this morning without any stoppages. The quickest time made by O'Leary was on the 157th mile, which was done by him it 9 minutes and 55 seconds. O'Leary commenced his eighty-seventh mile yesterday morning, and his time on every fifth mile was as follows up to the time of his 168th mile: minutes, thirty-six minutes and forty-two seconds,

THE DOUBLE SCULL RACE

Union Springs Wins-The Fastest Two-Mile Amateur Time.

SARATOGA, August S. 1876. yesterday afternoon was rowed between five and six o'clock this evening, and proved the bardest strugglo and at half-past five the referee's boat was on the line, waiting for the contestants. The Neptunes were the first to show out on the water, Riley and Keator looking in magnificent condition and evidently eager to meet their rivals. A little later the Union Springs crew, Yates and Courtney, put in their appearance, Yates looking well, and Courtney in good condition, being some fifteen or eighteen pounds beyond his rowing weight. The plucky little Wolvenhooks, Craigs and Miles, boys of eighteen and nineteen years, were next in order to draw into posttion, not at all frightened at the formidable opponent they expected to meet; and last, but not least, the Ata their boathouse and drew into line. The water was a smooth as glass, scarcely a ripple disturbing its surface when the signal to start was given.

DOUBLE SCILL RACE.

1. ATALANTAS.—P. C. Ackerman, bow; age 22, weight 135 lbs., height 5.11; H. W. Rodgers, stroke; age 27, weight 178, height 6.00%.

2. UNION SPRINGS.—F. E. Yates, bow; age 33, weight 140 lbs., height 5.7½; C. E. Courtney, stroke; age 28, weight 166, height 5.11%.

3. NORTHWESTERN.—Withdrawn.

4. NEFTUMES.—Thomas R. Kestor, bow; age 25, weight 155 lbs., height 5.10%; James Riley, stroke; age 24, weight 150 height 5.10%; James Riley, stroke; age 24, weight 150 height 5.10%.

5. WOUVENDOOK.—C. C. Craig, bow; age 19, weight 115 lbs., height 5.7½; James J. Miles, stroke; age 18, weight 123 lbs, height 5.6%.

THE RACE.

A little after the hour appointed and the boats being straightened out, the word "Go!" was given and boats

The Atlantas had the best of the start. Neptune next, the Union Springs crew being slow to get their boat moving through the water. Keator and Riley were the first to show to the front and got a slight lead of a half boat's length in the first few hundred yards, followed by the Union Springs and Atalantas on a line, and the Wolvenhooks dropping behind a couple of boats' lengths. The Neptune men were rowing about 38 strokes to the minute and were pulling their blades clear through the water with desperate energy. The pace was terribly hot, but still they kept it up and were increasing the lead. At the balf-mile they were two boats' lengths ahead of the Union Springs men, hade in America, and looks as in the two, might waip the great Couriney to-morrow.

Altogether, if the water is smooth to-morrow, either Riley will win in the sculls, or very fast time will be made, or both; and in the foursthe friends of the Argonatoas, though their boat seems to be too small, are not likely to be disappointed.

CORNELL AND YALE.

A LETTER FROM ONE OF THE CORNELL CREW. [From the New Haven Paliadium, August 7.] In answer to the communication from the Cornell alumni, Mr. Ostrom, the stroke of the Cornell crew-has written (July 31) a letter, in which he gives the folwing reasons for not entering a four-oared crew in the international regatta:-First—The men have spent all the time they can afford.

Second.—They have incurred a debt.

Third.—They have no boat and there is not time to get one node.

Fourth—Being accustomed to row in a six they could not no salvert a time learn to row in a four.

Firth—The crews from abroad are not representative desired to meet Cornell there, notwithstanding that First—The Yale men have spent as much time rowing this summer as the Cornell men have. Second—The Yale navy is in debt and there I as been no meeting of the Yale alumni to provide funds, as has been the case with Cornell. Third—They have no four-oared shell. They ordered one from Elliott, of Greenpoint, only on Thursday, August 3, three days after the date of Mr. Ostrom's letter. The for are now practising in an old six-oared shell. Fourth—They have been secustomed to row in an eight, and the change from an eight to a four is much greater than from a six. and the change from an eight to a four master greater from a six.

Fifth—The crews from abroad are sufficiently representative to give the crew beating them harder work and greater glory than any winning college crew has yet received.

What is the real reason that Mr. Ostrom does not care to enter his crew in the regatin?

SUNSTRUCK.

HERRING FISHING.

HALIFAX, August 8, 1871. The catch of herring in Annapolis Basin is very large this season. Many have already been smoked and ahipped.

THE JURISDICTION WITH THE SINKING PUND COMMISSIONERS-PEBLING OF THE STEAM

There is a universal sentiment among the citizens of New York against restoring Castle Garden as a depot for emigrants. The feeling of all the residents in the neighborhood of the Battery, except, of course (naturally enough), the proprietors of emigrant boarding houses, is decidedly against the restoration. The Battery is decidedly against the restoration. The Battery is the present shape, they argue, cost the taxtery, in its present shape, they argue, cost the tax-payers over $5,000,000, and the taxpayers, not the emigrants, should have the benefit of it. As it is, after a beary debarkation of living treight from Europe there is little room for rest among the seats and benches in the park for any but emigrants. The resolution offered in the meeting of the Aldermen on Wodnesday meets with popular approval. The question now is, Where should the emigrant depot be located? On Governor's, Bedloe's, Ward's, or Staten Island, or at Bay Ridge, which is the latest mentioned place in connection with the subject. The Commissioners of the Sinking Fuhd, it appears, and not the Board of Aldermen, have the right to say whether the emigrant depot shall be retained where it is. They leased Castle Garden years ago to the Commissioners of Emigration, and though was stipulated at the time that a rent should be paid the Sinking Fund Commissioners no money whatever ha been received on that account. The Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, under such circumstances, can hardly cutertain any great amount of sympathy for the Commissioners of Emigration, whose pathetic appeal to be left where they are was put in its strongest shape before the Common Council by Commissioner Lynch This gentleman appears to think lightly of the expense

RESTORATION OF CASTLE GARDEN would involve. The fire left nothing of the original structure but the bare old walls, with original structure but the bare old walls, with nothing standing within the great circular area but the brick abutments of the roof. A place more completely gutted by fire it would be difficult to see. The wall that remains, though several feet thick at the base and built for elemity, seems disposed to crumble into dust. To stretch a roof over this vast naked interior and fit it up with some decent regard to the accommodation of emigrants would take no less than $30,000. Of course it is more convenient for the Commissioners of Emigration than Ward's Island, but even the Commissioners will admit that the presence of this emigrant depot on one of the most denightud resorts around Manhattan Island keeps away thousands of citizens who would otherwise be glad to go there for the fresh, cool air of the harbor on the sultry summer evenings.

The steamship companies, as the Herallo reporter discovered yesterday, incline to the retention of Castle Garden for its present purposes. They lear that if they had to land passengers on Ward's Island they would be placed under the obligation to transship them atterward to the city. It was pointed out to an official of one of the companies that as Hell Gate would be soon blown up and a sufficient depth of water secured to admit the passage of the largest occar going steamers by way of the Sound, Ward's Island would then be even more convenient than Castle Garden. To this soon blown up and a sufficient depth of water secured to admit the passage of the largest ocean going steamers by way of the Sound, Ward's Island would then be wen more convenient than Castle Garden. To this was offered the reply that the steamships would be unlikely to use the Sound in coming to New York; that though it might be a snorter route, which was doubtful, there would be too much risk in waters that swarm night and day with so many small sailing craft, and that the necessity of taking down topmasts to effect a passage under the East River Bridge would counterbalance any advantage in point of time or distance. It has been stated that the use of the Sound by ocean going stoamers would save eighteen hours in the voyage to Europe. The steamship capitains controvert this statement and declare that not even half in hour would be gained by the change. Coming by way of the Sound would necessitate a virtual alteration of the present charts, as a deflection from the track now followed by steamships from Queenstown coming in by Sandy Hook should be made 400 or 500 miles from shore. Another objection to using the Sound would be the confusion in the narrow parts of the East River incident to half a dozen large steamers leaving at about the same time on a Saturday alternoon. On the whole the steamship companies may be put down as opposed to considering for the present and for a long time to come the Sound as any great convenience to their traffic and Ward's Island as much of an improvement on Castle Garden.

Ward's Island, it will be remembered, is the property, though heavily mortgaged, of the Commissioners of Emigration. The State could have little objection to relieve the steamship companies of the apprehension they appear to be under in regard to being compelled to tranship passengers from the Island to the city. A small appropriation by the State providing for a barge and tugboat would meet this difficulty, and one spot, and that the helpless, the sick and indigent might spare the Commissioners the expense—and
